By studying long rows of figures we learn not only the city, but the very number of the house where Indigence finds her breakfast. Charity first took up her abode in Pounsylvania in the days of Penn. Sho remained in Philadelphia and never washed her feet in any other locality in Punusylvania until 1846. I speak of organized charity. I cannot give the exact figures of the amount that Philadelphia received of the bounty of the State, in the name of charity, prior to 1846. My strength was insufficient to make the research, running hack prior to 1846. This much I can assure the Senate, that prior to that period, Philadelphia eccived from the strong box of the State the produce of more than a million of dollars. Charlty took my father's sweat and my mother's kuitting needles, from the shores of the Lake to Philadelphia, before I was born. I do not allude to what she has received for her penitentiaries and prisons—I only speak for abused charity for warming humanity outside of Philadelphia. Still she has returned to the State treasury annually for gifts never dunied by her faithful Chriss Krinkle! She has ever pleaded under the cave-drops of this Capitol. Twenty-three Buildings Destroyed!

LOSS #15,000 !

An extensive and disastrous fire occurred at Putroleum Centre night before last, the 23d inst. The fire broke out about 11 o'clock P. M., in the Hotel, on the west side of Washington street, the main thoroughfare of the town. The alarm was promptly given and vigorous efforts uade to extinguish the flames, but without avail. There was no lack of willing hands, but the only are engine in town was without hose, the supply of water at hand was wholly inadequate and the flimsy character of the buildings offered no esistance to the rapid progress of the flames. South of the hotel is an intervening vacant space of some two bundred and fitty feet, so that the fire advanced no further in that direction, but took the opposite course and swept everything cfore it up to Jefferson street, besides cros to the east side of Washington street, and laying n ashes about an equal number of stores hops on that side.

The following are the names of the sufferers. information :

Union Hotel-a two story frame house, owned by Dennis Lane, now in New York and kept by his brother, Edward Lane. There is said to be a policy of $2,000 on the property in the Ni-agara Insurance Company, which will not cover he loss on building, stock and furniture.

Altogether, nearly two acros of the central part of the town, covering both sides of the principal street, is now a smoking ruin. Some twentythree buildings were destroyed, all frame, most ly of the "balloon" pattern without cellars, and with few brick chimneys in them. Some of them cost thousands in the "flush" times but would fetch only hundreds now. Still it was the mercantile portion of the town, and throwing a hundred persons out of business and homes is a se ore affliction to them. The loss is nut at about foot up to $25,150. Had the fire crossed Jeffer son street under ne unfavorable wind, it would by covering the roofs and side of the house on he corner of Jefferson street with cocos matting. blankets and quilts, and keeping them wet by forming a bucket line to the creek, the flames were arrested at this point. The origin of the fire is attributed to an incendlary. We are informed that it broke out simultaneously in several places in the Union He in the basement and up stairs, and that crude oil was found poured out on the floor as if with design. The parties having charge of the hotel, Edward Lane, the landlord, and John Rafferty, the bar-tender, were arrested on suspicion of "foul play," and a legal investigation was in progress yesterday afternoon before Justice Donoglie, Wm. W. Marshall, Esq., conducting the case on the part of the Commonwealth, and W. T. Graham, Esq., for the defendants. testimony implicating the accused had been developed up to last accounts. The scene at the fire was one of wild excitement, distress and confusion, as is usual when men, women and children are roused from their sleep at night by the startling cry of Fire. Lots of goods and to fall into the hands of thieves and to be spiritnday when the Lord's Supper was ed away to hiding piaces. This was especially the case with the clothing, liquor and eigar stores. We heard of one case, that of a half distracted shop-keeper who was compelled to see some impudent rascals changing their clothing the spirit of caste and exclusion which he med wholly out of place, quietly took his or stop their depredations; glosting over their fellows misfortunes as affording them a chance for pjunder, just as jackala tear up graves and sate themselves on corpses. Schwarz's whis-keys and cordials bitters, Sc., got "punished" severely, and out of an invoice of over 74,000 cigars, only 10,000 were saved.it is very distinct and unequivocal. The Petroleum market is moderately active with an easier feeling and without any decided filange from yeartenlay's prices. Owing to the difference between buyers and pypolucers the market was but moderately settee. The markets in New York and Piliphurgh ready made and unclaimed. The Crack and River are main quiet and unchanged. The Creek and River are in good boating condition, and the shipments by these routes are quite large. The inquiry to-day was fair. On Pioneer Eun an offer was made of 42,10 for 48 gr. oil at Pilhole oft of 4 gr., is now hald at $2.00 delivered on the cars at Titusville. On Distriction oil of 45 gr. is held at $2.25 at the wells. On Bismeholf Run on other of $2.29 was made for 550 barrels of heavy gravity oil at the wells. The sales not previously reported were as follows: 1,500 barrels on Pienner-Run, from the Andrew's wolks, for the New York market, terms not stated; 200 barrels on the hill believer. tured in 1860 has since been increased very much. The number of passengers corried upon our nitroads in 1866 was twelve million seven ham dred and thirty four thousand two hundred and eighteen. (I do not include city railroad passen gers, white or black.) Better by far inx those who ride in our milroad enr. one cent each, that that one influental soul should perish. This tax nione would amount to one hundred and twenty-seven thousand three hundred and forty-two dol-lors and eighteen cents — In 1806 we moved upon our initrolds and cannis two hundred and forty six million two hundred and ciphty-two thod sand six hundred and forty-two tons, which, a one cent per ton, would produce two million four Lundred and sixty two thousand eight hundeed and thenty-six dollars and forty two cents In 1866 we swallowed two hundred and eighty eight million drinks of poison in Pennsylvania which, had we nixed but one-fourth cent per dram, would amount to seven hundred and twenty thousand dollars. We paid out for these drinks, at the rate of six cents each, which would amount to seventeen million two hundred and eighty thousand dollars. This iten nione would pay our Stite debt in two years, and our national debt, if put late a sinking fund, is Charltable institutions are humanities half way houses to heaven, where the weary travele takes his moon-day map, eats his dinner, bother his weary fimbs and presses onward. The mor void of charity does not understand the first principles of true statesmanship, and the legis-lator who has not studied much upon the subject is almye all men most loexcosulie.) I would travel for to find the methematician who could demonstrate to mankind which was the most expense to society, the discount of maker, or the ignorant law-breaker. I was reared as a child, wild in the woods, and as a scholar, I never opened an arithmetic, yet 1 can demonstrate to mathematical certainty that either of the class of which I speak costs the State of Pennsylvania annually and hunceessarily an amount sufficient to feed the poor children of the Commonwealth three warm meals a day and to cover thuir nakedness three times a year with every comfort. The people of Pennsylvania are a mighty wastful kingdop within themselves .could annually save from the kivish manne of feeding their finchs and their hords more than enough to keep the hungry walf from the stomach of every poor child of God within the State.— The worse than unnecessary fuel which luxury burns in her pariors and bed chambers, when it inmates are sleeping, and which poisons them as it hurries them on to a yawning grave, would warm comfertably every shivering child of hu-manity on our mountains, in our valleys, our villages and our cities. He would be a scholar so dull, as never to have heard of mathematics if he could not demonstrate, that the husband-men and laborers of Pennsylvania are taxed more to maintain dogs to feed upon sheep, than they are taxed to maintain ministers who take the lambs of our flocks in the name of the Holy Trinity as they roll from their trundle-beds.

It is ostensibly true, yet really false that the State has met with financial losses, and, therefore unable to be charitable in 1867. Three hundred thousand dollars the State (it is said) has lost on he tax on National Banks, which money the State never had to lose.

The State lost one million three hundred an fifly thousand dollars by the repeal of the tax on al estate. The people, fersooth, lost this adult by keeping their pocket-books in their own breeches' pockets. Pennsylvania, with her State tax upon real estate repealed, can reducher State debt in peace as she did in war. We can reduce our State debt this year a half million money, and at the same time pay all proper Objects of charley and State pecessities.

Charlty's headquarters in Pennsylvania grand as our mountains. The two carthly pillars which sustain it are the Church and State. Distinetly separate, yet invisibly one. We must strengthen them both, and weaken neither. If
